

NEXT STOP:

a brighter future

Despite recent tough times, tomorrow holds the promise of a brighter future. The question is, how do we get there? We'll need big ideas, new ways to spark our economy and get us rolling in the right direction. One of those is transit investment.

Transit generates new jobs, with construction of projects and operation of new bus and rail lines. A transit investment can give us traffic relief, while fewer vehicles on the road means a cleaner environment and a step toward energy independence. And transit can drive new opportunities for businesses to get employees and customers right to their door.

When people can get to work and enjoy their community without relying solely on a car, the community is healthier and wealthier. We have much to do to set our course for a bright future. We can get there with HART.
